Additional Information Collected During Inspection

Comments

Conducted pre-operational phone conference with chef. Per Scott, fried items and pizzas are prepared at facility. Other food items are prepared in the main kitchen and taken to the snack bar at the pool area on a daily basis. Leftover food items, if any, are discarded at closing. All wares are washed in the main kitchen. Discussed need for probe thermometer to verify cooking and hot and cold holding temperatures, recommended obtaining digital thermometers since calibration is not typically required. Also discussed prevention of barehand contact with ready to eat items, such as hot dog buns and excluding ill food workers, such as those with diarrhea, vomiting, fever, yellowing of the skin or eyes, infected cuts, or sore throat.
