Comments

Inspection conducted at Upstate Brewery. No violations observed during time of inspection. Discussed use of towels should be limited to wiping clothes and are recommended to be stored in sanitizing solution buckets. No food service items to be stored on towels or any absorbent surface. Discussed method for cooking and reheating French fries and to working in small manageable quantities within 15-20 minute time periods to prevent previously cooked fries from reaching temperatures above 45F if previously cooled and below 140F if previously cooked. Observed functioning digital probe thermometer and temperature of all cold holding units at 41F or less with thermometers in all units with potentially hazardous food or time/temperature control for safety (PHF/TCS) items. Observed proper glove and utensil use when preparing/cooking fish filets so no cross contamination occurs with ready-to-eat foods or food preparation surfaces.
